

Holicong

A Haley & Aldrich hub for mid-Atlantic clients.

Serving clients in Pennsylvania and beyond with geotechnical engineering and environmental services.

Located near the border of Pennsylvania and New Jersey, our Holicong-based consultants, many of whom are New Jersey LSRPs, advise on environmental and engineering challenges by offering due diligence, environmental and facility permitting, and land use permitting and wetland services. They partner with our experts across the country on projects that involve:

- Brownfields
- Construction
- Contaminated site management
- Disaster and climate resilience services
- EHS compliance
- Sustainability
- Geotechnical engineering
- Lean consulting
- Water resources

To all of our work, we bring a strong background in local energy projects, environmental and natural resources concerns, legacy contamination, and much more.
