HALEY ALDRICH

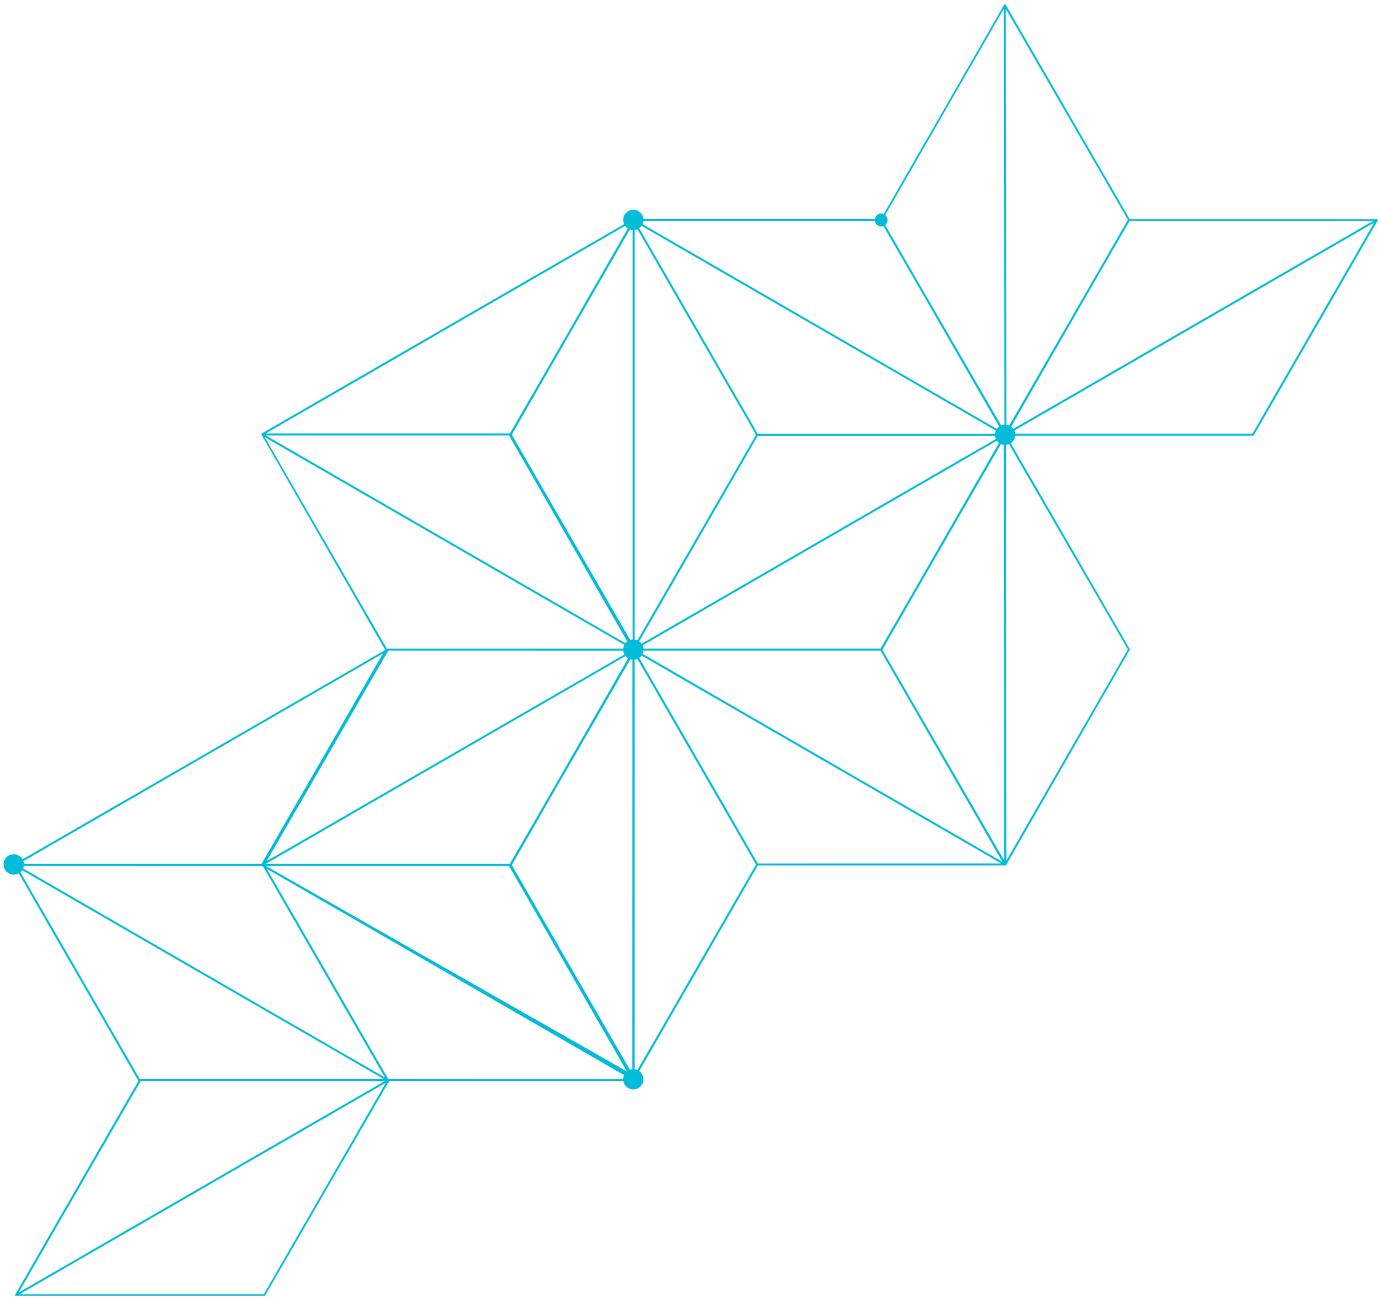

Located near Madison Square Garden in New York City, this Haley & Aldrich office servesreal estate, government infrastructure, and other types of clients on projects that require, among other services:

- Brownfields
- Construction
- Contaminated site management
- Disaster and climate resilience services
- EHS compliance
- Sustainability
- Geotechnical engineering
- Lean consulting
- Water resources

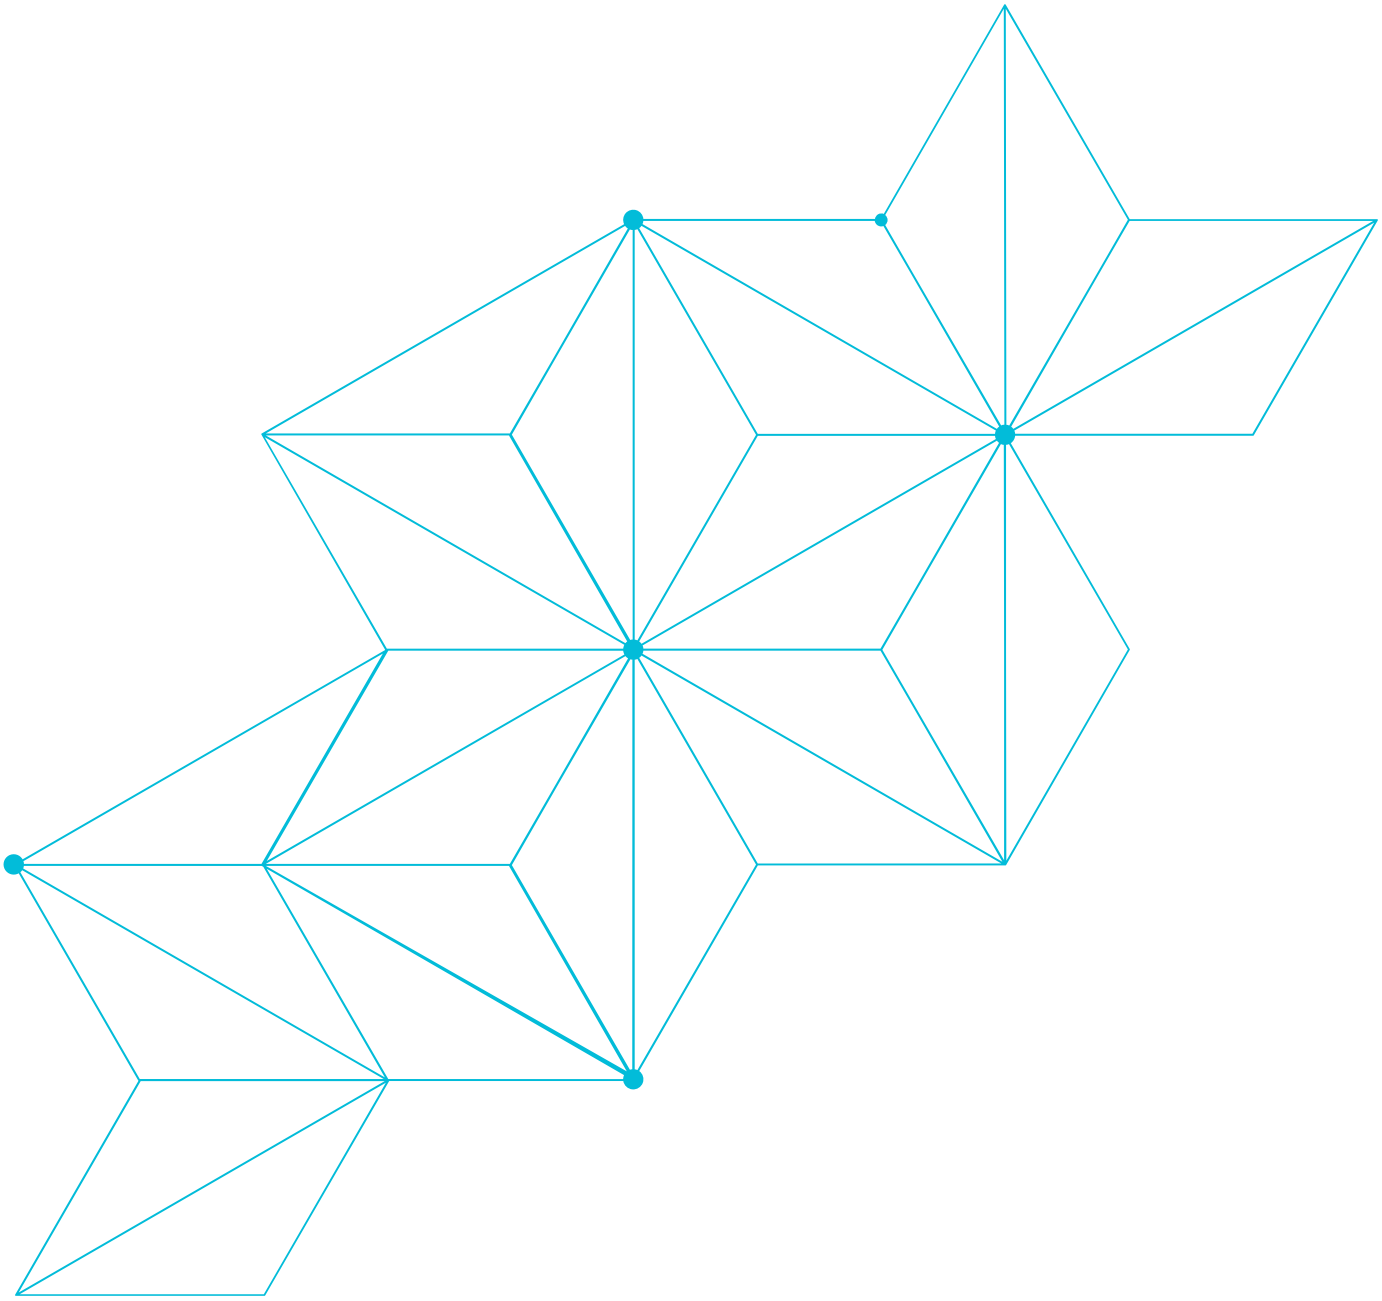

Our consultants have made their mark on many of the city's most challenging infrastructure projects. These projects include Governors Island, where we provided design, ground improvement, and other services to turn an abandoned site into a beautiful and climate-change-resilient park.
