

Publication

What does water represent to us?

Nestlé Waters interviewed people from around the world asking what water represents to them, then showed those responses to Haley & Aldrich Senior Hydrogeologist and Water Resources Service Lead Mark Nicholls. In this video, Mark reflects on society's changing relationship with water, addressing water overuse and what the water situation will look like in 100 years.

-